OUR COVENANTAL COMMUNITY

Growing Your Faith and Relationship with God

In the College of Theology, students grow within our unique covenantal community. Together, students develop Christian character, moral integrity and core Christian truths that go hand-in-hand in effective ministry. Our community is devoted to the Lord and celebrates biblical, theological and moral bases that help cultivate a spirit of cooperation for our next-generation disciples. The college is an evangelical institution within an interdenominational university, which affords students a unique opportunity to study in a context shaped by Christian unity and denominational diversity.

Covenantal vs. Missional Communities

A missional community may be understood as a community of people strategically united in carrying out a mission that centers on following Jesus Christ in word and in deed. Missional communities differ from what may be called covenant communities, in which all members of a school commit to affirming and practicing the same faith. Our college represents an exception to this general strategy since we serve to prepare ministers and Christian leaders. For this reason, it is vital that all theology faculty and students are united in their affirmation of the essential doctrines of the faith and committed by covenant to a lifestyle consistent with those doctrines. In this way, the college is able to make a unique contribution to the larger missional culture of the university. This situation also affords theology students and faculty unique opportunities for ministry and service that are not available within institutions that only permit people of like mind and faith to participate in the community.

COLLEGE OF THEOLOGY

One Lord. One Faith. One Purpose.

GCU's College of Theology serves students across our interdenominational university who aspire to serve as ministers and Christian leaders. Our conviction is that the Bible is the inspired, infallible, true and authoritative Word of God. This belief shapes all that we do and say while providing a firm foundation for theological discussion and ministerial preparation. The gospel of Jesus Christ brings unity within a learning environment where Christians of all backgrounds feel welcome.

Grand Canyon Theological Seminary at Grand Canyon University is accredited by the Commission on Accrediting of the Association of Theological Schools.

Whether you want to be a pastor, a missionary or serve in some other way, GCU will prepare you to respond to the call God has placed on your heart."

— Dr. Jason Hiles, Dean, College of Theology and Grand Canyon Theological Seminary

GUIDING PILLARS

Gospel Centered | Church Focused | Missions Oriented

Grand Canyon Theological Seminary (GCTS) and the College of Theology embrace and support GCU's Doctrinal and Ethical Positions Statements, which affirm belief in the triune nature of God and the full deity of Jesus Christ as the Son of God. The statement also reinforces the belief that salvation comes through Jesus Christ and love for God and each other.

A LIFETIME OF MINISTRY

Is Vocational Ministry My Calling?

All Christians have been called to follow Jesus faithfully. Some are uniquely called to serve him as pastors, missionaries and other types of leaders within the church or Christian organizations. This may be described as a call to vocational ministry.

A vocational call can seem mysterious, but those who are called to this sort of service can discern their calling by considering the following:

- Has God gifted me for a career in ministry and service?
- Has God placed a desire in my heart to minister?
- I love God and His Word (the Bible); has God gifted me to teach His Word?
- Do I love God's people (the church)?
- Have God's people recognized and affirmed my gifts and my calling?
- Have God's people granted me opportunities to serve within the church in order to develop my gifts and clarify my calling?
- Am I above reproach morally and is my character in good order?
- Do I have a good reputation among those outside the church?
- Am I willing to surrender to the calling that God has placed on my life?

FOUNDATIONAL UNIVERSITY DOCUMENTS AND THE COLLEGE OF THEOLOGY COVENANT

Significance of the Foundational Documents and Covenant

- GCU has adopted a Doctrinal Statement, inspired by the Nicene Creed, which outlines the essential tenets of the Christian faith and provides clarity about GCU's identity and mission.
- GCU's Ethical Positions Statement outlines beliefs on moral truth, creation, human life, salvation and more. The overarching goal of these documents is to provide clarity, unity and alignment across the university on matters of doctrine, ethics and morality.
- The College of Theology's Covenant describes a lifestyle consistent with its strong doctrinal commitments. This Covenant underscores the vital connection between the Christian faith and the Christian life.

AFFIRMATION OF THE FOUNDATIONAL DOCUMENTS AND COVENANT

All Christians are called to live in a manner worthy of the gospel of Jesus Christ, but ministers are specially called to live as exemplars of this lifestyle. Thus, the college asks all its students and faculty to affirm these foundational documents as well as the Covenant with their signature.

The College of Theology Covenant outlines basic biblical and theological principles expected from our students and staff. This covenant underscores the vital connection between Christian faith and Christian life.
